SOUL/ROCK/JAZZ ROOTS

DAVE TATLOCK

BIOGRAPHY

David is one of the founders of the band and has been a vocalist for 25 years. He started singing in junior high school and continued in college at Purdue University where he fronted a couple of blues and rock bands. Known for his ability to sing with "gritty" soul, he later performed with the gospel choir Black Voices of Inspiration under Stanley Butts III. Gospel and blues became his biggest influences as he went on to sing with Rodnie Bryant and the Christian Community Mass Choir on two albums and also recorded with Mike Tetrick and Gobel Brockman on their initial releases. David has fronted two bands since moving to Las Vegas but DT and the Soul Joos Band is the best reflection of his gospel B3 organ and gritty soul roots that have shaped him into the vocalist he is today. David also enjoys being one of the primary song writers in the band.

TOSCHA COMEAUX

BIOGRAPHY

Born in Hartford, Connecticut, Toscha began singing professionally at the age of 15 but started her musical journey in church. She was first influenced by her mother, who sang in the choir/chorale, the music her father played around the house, and an accordion playing kindergarten teacher. Although trained classically and having an appreciation for many genres, Toscha loves jazz, rhythm and blues, and gospel. Some of Toscha's accomplishments are: Cirque Du Soleil (Las Vegas)-"Viva Elvis;" Walt Disney World (FL)-"Festival of the Lion King Show;" "All Shook Up"(NH); "Harlem Sophisticate" (Iceland); Solo jazz tour throughout England (one of the venues was the famous "Ronnie Scott's" in London); Hartford Jazz Festival; Orlando Philharmonic; and Nathan Tanouye and The Las Vegas Jazz Connection. Toscha has graced the stage with such legends as Nat Adderly, Ray Charles, Diana Ross, Lou Rawls and Jerry Butler, just to name a few, and has two CDs to her credit: "Toscha Comeaux" and "This Could Be Love."

"DT & The Soul Joos Band combines hard hitting horn funk like Sly and the Family Stone / Tower of Power and mixes it with a little Tedeschi Trucks / Maroon 5 rock/roots music."

ABOUT THE BAND

Dave Tatlock shares vocal duties with Toscha Comeaux delivering a power-packed funk/soul performance that integrates Dave's gritty gospel/soul style with Toscha's amazing power, range and jazz influenced vocal mastery. The band is made up of organist/keyboardist/band leader, David Rogers, along with Craig Morgan on guitar, Alan Butterfield on bass and Matthew Hughes on drums. Two trumpet players, Lance Aguirre and Anthony Marentic; two trombone players, Mo Robbins and Jay Boughter; and tenor sax player, Jamaal Howard, round out the band and help create an amazing musical experience with original horn parts. All the members of the band are experienced players in Las Vegas, but decided to come together to form the band they've always dreamed about playing in. DT & The Soul Joos Band is the result and we're excited to deliver an amazing sound to your venue -- outdoor, indoor, small or large.

"YOU CAN'T STOP YOURSELF FROM MOVING WHEN YOU LISTEN TO THIS BAND."

"THE SOUL VIBE AND HORNS WERE AMAZING:"

"In today's world of instant digital gratification, there is something soul-satisfying about hearing DT and the Soul Joos Band throw down one hot number after another. The multiplicative power of collaboration is on full display as this group offers an experience that is greater than the sum of its parts. Once their rhythm section lays down that sweet groove and their horn section rolls out that hot funk, all that's left is the spicy vocals and you've unquestionably experienced the satisfaction that is DT and the Soul Joos Band. Once you've tasted and seen, you'll be back for more..."

Andy Milligan -- Juilliard trained vocalist, recording artist and musician
